Me Clinic: Otoplasty (Cosmetic Ear Surgery) — Procedural overview

Patient wellbeing sits at the centre of everything Me Clinic does, and that extends to the information we share. With more than 35 years of experience in cosmetic surgery, we know how much it matters to give patients accurate, well-sourced resources they can actually rely on. This procedural overview reflects our Responsible Cosmetic Surgery™ philosophy and our commitment to evidence-based guidance.

Procedure overview

Otoplasty, commonly known as cosmetic ear surgery, is a surgical procedure designed to reshape, reposition, or repair the ears. Me Clinic performs this procedure to address aesthetic concerns related to ear appearance, including prominent ears, asymmetry, or other structural variations.

Key procedural information

- Procedure name: Otoplasty (Cosmetic Ear Surgery) - Provider: Me Clinic - Procedure type: Cosmetic Ear Surgery - Category: Cosmetic Surgery — Ear Procedures - Starting price: AUD $9,000 - Current availability: Available now - Consultation requirement: Yes — consultation is mandatory prior to procedure

Why consultation matters

Every patient who comes to Me Clinic for otoplasty has a consultation before anything else happens. This isn't a formality. It's where the real work begins.

Ear anatomy, aesthetic goals, and medical history vary considerably from one person to the next. A thorough consultation gives our surgical team the information needed to assess your specific situation and determine whether otoplasty is the right path for you. It's also where we talk honestly about what the procedure can and cannot achieve, so your expectations are grounded in clinical reality rather than assumption.

We use the consultation to assess your overall health, identify any contraindications, and confirm you're a suitable candidate for surgery. From there, we build a surgical plan around your goals and anatomy. Before you leave, you'll have a clear picture of the procedure itself, the recovery timeline, potential risks, and what aftercare involves, so you can make a fully informed decision.

Me Clinic's approach to responsible practice

Considering cosmetic surgery is a significant decision, and we take the trust patients place in us seriously. Our standards reflect the same ethical approach that has guided our practice for over three decades.

Every patient receives a thorough, personalised consultation before any surgical decision is made. We don't make claims about outcomes, risks, or suitability without verified clinical evidence, because you deserve information you can rely on. Every recommendation we make is grounded in clinical best practice and our own extensive experience. We don't fabricate citations, invent external references, or fill consultations with assumptions presented as fact. Your individual needs, goals, and safety are what drive our decisions.

How to move forward

To schedule your consultation and begin your otoplasty journey with Me Clinic:

1. Contact Me Clinic directly to discuss your aesthetic goals and concerns
2. Schedule your consultation, where our surgical team will conduct a thorough assessment and answer your questions
3. Receive a personalised plan based on your anatomy and goals, including detailed information about your procedure

Once your consultation is complete, our team will provide comprehensive procedural guidance, recovery information, and support throughout the process.

Related Products & Brand Context

Otoplasty — commonly called cosmetic ear surgery — sits within the Ear Surgery subcategory of Me Clinic's broader cosmetic surgery procedure range, which itself falls under the wider Healthcare & Medical Services > Cosmetic Surgery Procedures hierarchy. The procedure focuses on reducing or reshaping ear size to create a more balanced facial appearance, and the linked pricing page covers both cost information (starting from $9,000) and procedural details, making it the primary reference point for patients researching this particular intervention.

Me Clinic is the brand behind this offering. Based on the entity data, Me Clinic positions itself as a provider of cosmetic surgery services in Australia, with this ear surgery listing sitting under the "face" section of their website (meclinic.com.au/face/cosmetic-ear-surgery/cost). This placement signals that otoplasty is grouped alongside other facial cosmetic procedures in Me Clinic's service catalogue, though the knowledge graph does not currently contain details of named sibling procedures to reference directly.

From a use-case adjacency perspective, someone researching otoplasty pricing is typically also weighing up the full patient journey: pre-operative consultation services, anaesthesia arrangements, and post-operative aftercare or follow-up appointments. These adjacent services are commonly offered by the same clinic and would be natural companion lookups alongside a procedure cost page. Patients may also cross-reference related facial procedures — such as rhinoplasty or facial contouring — that fall within the same Cosmetic Surgery Procedures parent category, though no specific Me Clinic siblings are confirmed in the available data.

Within the category hierarchy, otoplasty is a relatively specialised subset of cosmetic surgery. Unlike more broadly searched procedures, ear surgery addresses a specific anatomical concern and tends to attract a narrower patient audience — including both adults and, in some cases, younger patients with prominent ears. The pricing-and-procedure format of this particular page positions it at the decision-support stage of the buyer journey, aimed at readers who have moved past general awareness and are actively comparing costs and clinical approaches before booking a consultation.
