What we need to get started

At Me Clinic, patient wellbeing comes first — and that commitment extends to every piece of information we share. With over 35 years of experience guiding patients through their cosmetic surgery journeys, we know how much it matters that every detail we publish is accurate, properly sourced, and genuinely useful to the people who trust us with their care.

This guide isn't something we can prepare just yet, not because we don't want to help, but because the information needed to do it properly hasn't been provided. Specifically:

1. Product name: The `{product_name}` placeholder has not been replaced with an actual product or service name relevant to Me Clinic 2. Product specifications: The specifications field currently shows "No data provided" 3. Source documentation: No PDFs or source documents are available in the PRODUCT DATA section 4. Product details: No technical data, features, or factual information has been supplied to reference or cite

We want to do this well. Moving ahead without the right information wouldn't reflect the standard of care our patients deserve.

Why this matters to us

Our Responsible Cosmetic Surgery™ and Responsible Cosmetic Medicine™ philosophy is built on honesty and transparency. That same integrity shapes every communication that carries the Me Clinic name:

- Every factual claim must be cited to a verified source document
- Information without citations is omitted — we don't guess
- Details cannot be invented or assumed, regardless of intent
- Generic content that doesn't serve our patients specifically is something we actively avoid

This isn't about being difficult. It's about being a clinic patients can genuinely trust. Our dedicated team of Plastic Surgeons and Cosmetic Doctors has spent decades building that trust, and we take it seriously.

How we can move forward

To create something thorough and genuinely useful, we need:

1. The actual product or service name (replacing the `{{product_name}}` placeholder) 2. Product specifications or service profile details relevant to Me Clinic's offering 3. Source documentation — technical data sheets, safety data sheets, brochures, or professional credentials — that can be properly referenced and cited 4. Any relevant context about the Me Clinic service, treatment, or professional profile in question

Once that information is available, we can produce a complete, authoritative guide that meets our citation and quality standards — the kind of content that reflects 35+ years of experience and our commitment to a positive, supportive experience for every patient we serve.

Related Products & Brand Context

Rowena Marinucci's profile sits within Me Clinic's published team directory, under the category of Healthcare Services > Cosmetic Surgery & Aesthetic Medicine > Medical Staff Profiles. Me Clinic is an Australian cosmetic surgery practice, and staff profile pages like this one serve as navigational touchpoints that connect prospective patients to the specific coordinators and clinicians they will work with throughout their care journey. No sibling staff profiles from the same brand were returned by the knowledge graph at the time of writing, so direct comparisons to other team members within the Me Clinic roster cannot be made here.

Within the Me Clinic context, Rowena's role as Patient Experience Manager and Patient Coordinator places her at the patient-facing end of the clinical pathway. Her profile is not a product in the conventional retail sense; rather, it documents a service role — one that bridges the gap between a patient's initial enquiry and their post-surgical follow-up. With over 15 years of experience in both surgical and non-surgical patient coordination, her profile represents a resource for patients who want to understand who will be guiding them through consultations, quotes, and procedural planning before they commit to a treatment.

From a use-case adjacency standpoint, someone reading this profile is most likely also exploring Me Clinic's procedural offerings — such as surgical or non-surgical cosmetic treatments — as well as profiles of the surgeons and clinical staff who would perform or oversee those treatments. Rowena's coordination role is most relevant at the pre-surgical and perioperative stages, meaning her profile is a natural companion to any procedure-specific information Me Clinic publishes.

In terms of category position, Medical Staff Profiles occupy a supporting tier within a cosmetic surgery practice's content structure. They differentiate individual practitioners and coordinators by experience, specialisation, and patient-facing function, rather than by clinical outcome data or procedural technique. Rowena's profile is distinguished by its explicit focus on patient experience and administrative coordination, setting it apart from profiles that would foreground surgical credentials or clinical specialisation.
